LAST TIME OUT

Charlotte earned their third victory of the season over the Iowa Wild behind a 32-save shutout from Cooper Black. The win snapped a two-game losing streak for the Checkers and was the fourth consecutive win on the road for the team. John Leonard opened the scoring just 3:06 into the contest, followed by Sandis Vilmanis about five minutes late. Justin Sourdif and Mikulas would also add tallies in the game that saw 11 different checkers register a point. The Checkers didn't get any opportunities on the power-play, but their penalty kill unit went 3-for-3 in the contest.

BLACKOUT

Cooper Black's 32-save performance on Wednesday night was his second consecutive shutout of the Iowa Wild with the first one coming in Charlotte on November 30th, 2024 where he turned aside 23 shots. The Rookie netminder is 3-2-0-1 with Charlotte this season, boasting a 1.66 goals-against-average and .924 save percentage. Though his sample size is small, his goals-against-average is 2nd best among all rookie goaltenders in the AHL, and his save percentage is tops in the AHL.

JUST-IN TIME

After missing about a month's worth of games in November and December, Justin Sourdif has burst onto the scoresheet after finding consistent playing time. The third-year pro is averaging a point-per-game in January with four goals and two assists in six games. Since his return from injury on December 17th, Sourdif has 10 points in 14 games and hasn't gone more than two games in a row without earning a point.

ADMIRAL ADVERSARIES

The Checkers and Admirals will wrap up their season-series this weekend with a pair of games at UW-Panther Arena. The two teams met just over a week ago in Charlotte with both teams earning a win to split the series. Charlotte got the two points in their most recent meeting, toppling the Admirals 4-2, while Milwaukee taking the first meeting, 5-2. Six Checkers are averaging a point-per-game against Milwaukee this season including Kyle Crisculo, Trevor Carrick, Justin Sourdif, Oliver Okuliar, and Ben Steeves. Crisculo's two goals are tied with Milwaukee's Alex Campbell for the most among all players in the season series.
