LAST TIME OUT

The Checkers dropped their first game of their midwest swing, 4-1 to Milwaukee. Through most of the contest, it was a tight battle despite what the scoreboard may say, as Milwaukee managed to add two empty-net goals in the third to snuff out Charlotte's third period comeback attempt. After John Leonard tied the game at 1-1 in the opening minutes of the third period, Charlotte allowed the game-winning goal only 1:07 later. Despite throwing 19 shots on goal in the final frame, they weren't able to turn the tide in their direction and ultimately fell 4-1 after a pair of empty netters. The Checkers handily outshout Milwaukee 43-15, tied for their largest shot differential this season. Ken Appleby was the goalie of record for the Checkers stopping 11 of 13 in the loss while the Checkers power-play struggled with an 0-for-7 statline. Their penalty kill, on the other hand, stayed strong stopping all five of Milwaukee's chances. Overall, the Checkers penalty-kill has gone 19-for-20 in their last five games.

LEONARD LIGHTING LAMPS

One of the Checkers representatives at the AHL All-Star Challenge in February has shown no signs of slowing down following his nomination to the midseason classic. With his goal on Friday night, John Leonard has lit the lamp in three of his last four games and leads the team in goals with 18. His 35 total points are not only most on the team, but put him top-10 in the AHL, tied for 7th. Leonard is also one of five Checkers to play in every game this season, proving his durability. He joins Matt Kiersted, Jaycob Megna, Kyle Criscuolo, and Wilmer Skoog as the only remaining players on the roster to compete in every game this year.

JUST-IN TIME (CON'T)

After missing about a month's worth of games in November and December, Justin Sourdif has burst onto the scoresheet after finding consistent playing time. The third-year pro is averaging a point-per-game in January with four goals and three assists in seven games. Since his return from injury on December 17th, Sourdif has 11 points in 15 games and hasn't gone more than two games in a row without earning a point. That streak remains in tact following his game on Friday against Milwaukee where he added a helper on the team's lone goal, keeping his hot streak alive and well.

SEASON SERIES SPLIT?

With the Checkers loss to Milwaukee on Friday, the Admirals lead the season series two games to one with the finale coming up on Saturday. The Checkers look to get even against their Western Conference foes with their first win in Wisconsin since 2017. It will be the fourth meeting between the two clubs in the last two weeks, and Charlotte has only held Milwaukee to less than four goals once in the previous three games.
